www.lrd.org.uk
No-one knows when they might need the support of a good lawyer, as well as up-to-date case law, are included throughout. It takes into account recent developments and legislation and the most up-to-date case law examples.

The aim of this booklet is to highlight the issues that need to be covered in our workplace. LRD produces 10 booklets a year. The Labour Research at Work 2018 covers case law on redundancy, dismissals, contracts and updated to include all new and current employment legislation.

Advice in the booklet includes:
- The LRD Affiliation is a membership package which includes the following LRD subscriptions and privileges – and most importantly saves money.
- The opportunity to subscribe to Publications Online, which means individuals or organisations can refer to the content of ALL LRD booklets, magazines and periodicals, past and present, for £12.00 extra including a free print subscription to Workplace Report (or £5.50 for existing Workplace Report subscribers).
- Access to the LRD Enquiry Service – the LRD union helpline (Organisations only).
- The chance to participate in the decision making process.

For over 100 years the LRD has equipped trade unions with the information they need – in print, electronically and in plain English. The LRD is the unique information provider in the trade union movement. It publishes essential booklets such as the annual Law at work; a weekly digest of the latest statistics important to trade unions in Fact Service; monthly updates of negotiations; settlement cases; law and more in Workplace Report; and monthly news and features in Labour Research magazine, as well as providing help and advice to trade unionists through the Enquiry Service.

The LRD Booklets are essential reading for all union reps. They are compact, concise and clearly written and are designed to equip union reps with a basic knowledge of employment law and rights at work.

LRD Booklet covers a wide array of subjects of importance in the workplace. LRD produces 10 booklets a year.
